

Sara Barros

Product & Industrial Designer

About me

My name is Sara and I'm a designer with a big passion for what I do. I consider myself a detail-oriented and self-starter person. I always try to find the balance in the relationship between people, products, services and technology. And I also try to do that with enthusiasm and discipline. I'm looking forward to work where I can meet new challenges.

Education

● Digital Experience Design

Postgraduate degree
2019 - present
Faculty of Fine Arts, Lisbon

● Industrial Design

Bachelor degree
2016 - 2019
Faculty of Fine Arts, Lisbon

Work experience

● Resíduos Zero Group

December 2019 - present
Product & design manager (co-founder)

- We are a group of students that wants to reduce the consumption of plastic disposables but also facilitate and dynamize changes in consumption habits.

● ergoUX Hackathon

October 2019
UX student

- Is a design competition that aims to promote usability and user experience, with a user-centred design perspective.

● GABA

May 2019
Industrial design student

- The Open Galleries of Fine Arts is an event that aims to promote the work of its students. We created and sold Hortense, a vase for aromatic herbs.

● One day design challenge

April 2019 & April 2018
Product & interior design student

- It is a design competition organised by Roca, the challenge to create original and innovative products related to the bathroom space, in just one day.

● Refood Carnaxide

September 2016 - present
Volunteer

- In addition to my volunteer work, I also collaborate in the fundraising campaigns.

Interests

Circular Design
Biomimicry
3D modeling
Music & piano
Travel

Tools

AutoCAD Figma
SolidWorks InVision
3D Max HTML5
KeyShot CSS3
Adobe Suite

Skills

User research
Wireframing
Prototyping
User testing